

Waikato Respiratory Virus Report

Week to 10 June 2018

Week 23 2018

Sample numbers were stable this week, with RSV at “early winter” levels. Last year, RSV peaked around 20 positives a week. The small number of extended panel tests done (immunosuppressed and ICU patients) shows that Rhinovirus and Coronaviruses 22 and 63 have predominated in the Waikato over the past month. Influenza A and B are notably absent.
